- i. Once downloaded and installed, the 'Naviextras Toolbox' interface appears as shown below. The toolbox asks for a device connection and a log in. You will need to log in and connect a micro SD-Card reader to the computer, then need to insert the micro SD-Card with the mapping from a UR BT-50 navigation unit. The toolbox will recognise the device, then you can select the 'Maps' button to update maps (if an update is available) or the 'Backup' button to create a navigation card back up.

Note: The Naviextras Toolbox is a similar interface to the Mazda Toolbox (they are created by the same company) many of the functions are similar if not the same.

Note: Always wait until the update has completely finished, before disconnecting the SD-Card from the SD-Card reader. If the SD-Card reader is a remote type, remove the reader from the computer before removing the SD-Card.

Damage to the SD-Card may result from incorrect disconnection, rendering the SD-Card inoperable.
